SureFire 6PX LED illumination tools share many features, such as virtually indestructible high-efficiency LED heads, 320 lumens of maximum output, precision reflectors, and hard-anodized aluminum bodies. But their differences let you select precisely the right light for your needs. Choose single- or dual-output, a press/twist tactical tailcap switch or press/click switching, or a standard bezel or enhanced-defense Strike Bezel®. Each of these illumination tools is ideal for outdoor use, emergency preparedness, everyday carry, or use by EMTs and other first responders.

The 6PX Tactical provides a single output level—a brilliant, penetrating 320-lumen beam. It features a high-strength aerospace aluminum body that's been hard anodized to military specifications and our classic tactical tailcap switch—press for momentary-on, twist for constant-on.

The 6PX Pro is a dual-output version of the 6PX Tactical. It boasts the same 320 lumens of max output, but it also features a useful low-output mode that lets you extend the runtime per set of batteries. The 6PX Pro comes with a two-stage press/click tailcap switch.

The 6PX Defender provides the same 320-lumen performance as the 6PX Tactical and adds a crenellated Strike Bezel® for self-defense situations requiring extra bite. It is activated by a single-stage click-type switch.
